HAIL DAMAGE 101

- If you are not sure if your home is damaged you can do a quick survey of the property yourself. Look for dings on the gutters and downspouts, AC condenser, roof vents if visible, holes in screens, broken window beading, splatter marks on fence and even metal carports.
- Most of the time you cannot see the damage on the roof from the ground so it's very important to have a trained professional complete a FREE INSPECTION of your entire property.
- Hail damage usually doesn't cause leaks until after a year of weathering under the hot summer sun, but if severe can cause leaks in your roof immediately. If not taken care of promptly you could suffer from thousands in damages to the inside of your home.
- An average hail storm takes 5 years off the life of your roof simply by knocking off the protective layer of granules from the shingles. You will see these granules in your gutters and coming from your downspouts.
